Violators Will Be Haled
Into Court And Fined
Declares Mayor.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE WARNED BY POLICE

Practice Of Parking Autos
On Restricted Streets
Brings Complaints.

War has been declared by Mayor John W. Post and the police department on violators of the automobile traffic regulations.

The first skirmish started Tuesday morning when Mayor Post formally announced that every violator of the city traffic code will be arrested and prosecuted for each and every offense.

This announcement follows receipt of numerous complaints from citizens and police officers with regard to violations of the parking ordinance. Police have warned numerous automobile owners and drivers of flagrant violations with regard to driving at night without tail lights and parking on wrong sides of streets.

"You can tell them for me that every violator will be brought up here and handed a fine from now on," declared Mayor Post Tuesday morning as he fired the opening gun in the campaign to command respect for the traffic regulations.

The practice of parking machines on restricted streets for more than the legal period has been the subject of repeated complaints, it was reported at city hall.

The city traffic regulations provide that no vehicle shall park between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. for a longer period than one hour on the following streets: Main st. from Ellsworth ave. to Garfield ave.; Broadway from Main st. to East Pershing ave.

No vehicles are allowed to park on the following streets except for the purpose of loading or unloading and then for a period of not more than 10 minutes: North Lundy st. between Main and Green sts.; South Lundy st. between Main and East Pershing ave.; Chestnut st. between Main and Green sts. and on Chestnut st. from Green to High on the east side only and parallel with the curb; Ellsworth ave. between Main and East Green sts.

Parking on the following streets is allowed on both sides of the streets and parallel with the curb: McKinley ave. from the east corporation line; Main st.; Roosevelt ave. to the west corporation line; Garfield ave. between Main and High st.; Penn st. between Main and East Pershing; Depot st. between Main and Pershing; Pershing ave. on the north side from Lincoln to Howard.

Machines are not allowed to park within 10 feet of a fire plug or cross walk, theater entrance or in front of city hall on either side of the street.

Violators of these regulations face a fine of $25 and costs if brought before the mayor, it was announced.

Clear World Decks For Oil Struggle

Washington, April 17.—The international decks apparently are being cleared today for an oil struggle of world wide importance at the second Lausanne conference next week, with America playing a leading role.

In the face of French and British protests against the Chester concession in Turkey, assurances were again forthcoming from official sources today that the American coup in the near east is looked upon as a piece of legitimate business enterprise and such will command the support of the government.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR DANCING ESTABLISHED

Cleveland Girl Dances 66
Hours But Others Are After Laurels.

Cleveland, April 17.—Miss Madeline Gottschick, after 66 hours and six minutes of continuous dancing, establishing a new world marathon dance record, quit the floor today.

"Me for a good long sleep," she said in a speech of thanks as she left the roped-off enclosure.

Cleveland, April 17.—Most of the time with her arms tightly clasped around the neck of her partner of the moment, part of the time singing in a low voice "I'm a Sweet Lovin' Mama," Miss Madeline Gottschick, 29-year-old Cleveland girl at 10 o'clock today had danced her way into temporary fame as the champion marathon dancer of the world.

At 8:54 she had eclipsed by one minute the record set up at Houston, Texas, Sunday morning, by Miss Magdalene Williams, and said that she would go on at least to the 72-hour mark, and might attempt to establish a record of 80 hours.

If Miss Gottschick's record is to be beaten in Cleveland, it must be by one of the nine now remaining in the contest. Margaret Howard with 53 hours to her credit at 10 o'clock appeared to stand a chance as she was apparently fresh at that hour. Dance Hall Inspector Johnson has announced that no further marathon dancers will be permitted to start in halls under his control.

Will Seek Lost Laur. Is
Houston, Tex., April 17.—Miss Magdalene Williams announced today she would start dancing at 9 a. m. next Monday to set a long distance record that would not be broken for some time. She will dance at least 75 hours, she declared.

Dance In Three States
New York, April 17.—Ordered out of two states, New York and New Jersey, two young couples today were waltzing, two stepping, fox-trotting and at times "warily" "walking" through a third state—Connecticut. There are 45 states left in the union. The dancing demons are out to establish a new world's marathon record.

Thomas Mulligan Gill, who with Miss Vera Sheppard made up the third couple, dropped from exhaustion today. Because of police interference, the dancers who started Saturday night, were forced to dance aboard a motor truck, over the ferry into New Jersey to the Pekin ball room, from where they were finally ejected.

Then they danced into another truck and into Connecticut. They are now heading about in a private home.

Macready and Kelly crossed the tape at the end of the 50th lap, 1,550 miles, in 21 hours and 37 minutes, at an average hourly speed of 71.86 miles. Up to this time there had been no record for this distance.

ORDINANCE ENDS EAST LIVERPOOL'S STREET CAR TIEUP

Measure In Effect At Once
And Cars Will Operate
In Few Days.

East Liverpool, April 17.—(Sp.)—Partial restoration of street car service in the East Liverpool district tomorrow with operation of all units of the Beaver-Stuebenville division on Thursday will follow peace in the 350 day traction controversy, Geo. Manager C. A. Smith, announced today.

East Liverpool, April 17.—East Liverpool's traction controversy definitely has been settled.

City council, at an adjourned meeting last night, passed an emergency measure an ordinance granting the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company permission to increase its fares, exempting it from most of its street paving obligations for four years, giving it permission to abandon the River road line and operate buses upon this route, and also to operate motor buses upon the Pleasant Heights route until Oct. 1, while repairs are made to the tracks on that route.

J. Howard Maxwell, president of the company, stated that the ordinance as passed is acceptable to the traction company and that cars will be operated here within a few days.

Enactment of the ordinance definitely means the ending of the protracted controversy that has kept East Liverpool without traction cars for 350 days, and also means that operation of interurban cars between Beaver, Pa., and Steubenville will be resumed.

It also means that all employees of the company, from Beaver to Steubenville, will benefit by the wage agreement and working conditions agreed to by the men and officials of the company more than a week ago. This agreement, which was conditional upon the passage of a satisfactory fare increase ordinance, is now made effective.

The ordinance was passed without a dissenting vote. A few minutes after the ordinance had been put through the three readings, Mayor Jos. S. Wilson has affixed his signature, making it effective immediately.

BOY IS INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

Ralph Knepper, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Knepper, Etta st. was accidentally injured when run down by an automobile at the intersection of Ellsworth ave. and Fourth st. at noon Monday. One wheel of the heavy touring car passed over the child's body fracturing four ribs and inflicting numerous cuts and bruises.

The mishap was purely accidental according to eye witnesses. The machine is the property of L. Frank Smith. The driver had come into town after school students who live on the Ellsworth rd. to take them home for noonday luncheon. There were a number of boys in the machine who were being given a ride while waiting for other students who were not yet dismissed from their classes. The boys alighted from the automobile at the corner of Fourth st. and Ellsworth ave. where they played about for a time.

While turning the car around to go back up Fourth st. the Knepper boy dashed into its path and was knocked to the ground, allowing the wheel to pass over him.

FLYING HISTORY BEING MADE BY ARMY AVIATORS

American Flyers Break
French Record In Endurance Test.

ARMY AIRPLANE IS SETTING NEW MARK

Contestants Plan For Trans-
Continental Flight
Next.

Dayton, April 17.—Twenty-one hours in the air and going strong at 6:40 a. m. this morning was the achievement of Lieut. John A. Macready and Oakley G. Kelley in the big T-2 when folks went to work at 7 a. m.

During the night they broke the French record for 1500 kilometers and are believed to have established a record for 2,000 kilometers. At the end of the fortieth lap, 1,240 miles had been covered. This was finished at 2:59 a. m.

Shortly after 6 o'clock this morning they had been in the air for 20 hours and 16 minutes and had flown 1,457 miles.

With the powerful low-compression engine roaring regularly and never missing, observers believed that Macready and Kelly "would shoot the moon" and hang up a new record which the world may try to equal for some time to come.

The best time for any one lap thus far was 21 minutes and 53 seconds. The lap is 31 miles in extent, with pillars or markers located at Wilbur Wright, McCook fields and New Carlisle. Official timers and observers are at each station so as to keep the plane is slight or hearing at all times.

During the night powerful searchlights were played on the machine which carried red and green lights on wing tips.

Try For New Mark
Lieut. Harold R. Harris, in a De-Havilland four started at 6:28 a. m. to smash all existing records for speed over 1500 and 2,000 kilometers on the same course over which Macready and Kelly are flying. The observers and timers will check both flights simultaneously.

Following the successful conclusion of the present endurance event, Macready and Kelly, after a rest, will again attempt a non-stop trans-continental flight.

They tried this once last fall and had flown 2,060 miles from San Diego, Calif., toward New York when forced down at Indianapolis by reason of a leaking radiator.

With their water supply gone the only thing they could do was to pick out a nice soft spot and land. This was a heartbreaker for both pilots. When they started the endurance flight, now in progress, they took along a quantity of anti-leak compound to guard against a repetition of what happened on the other flight.

Plan Long Trip
The trans-continental trip has been duly authorized and it may be attempted within the next 30 days.

It was said at the field that something serious would have to develop to cheat the pilots and rob them of the honor they are shooting at. Last fall they flew 35 hours and 18 minutes but that record was never recognized as being official because there were no timers or observers present. That contingency has been provided for in the present flight and everything is regular.

Macready and Kelly said just before they started they would surpass their own record by a wide margin, if the machine, structurally perfect, would only hold together.

Building materials and metals again showed large increases in March over the preceding month, due to sharp advances in lumber, brick, paint, structural steel, iron pipe, nails, roofing tin, steel bullets, copper, lead and zinc, the increase in these two groups averaging 3 and 7 per cent respectively.

Smaller increases were recorded for the groups of farm products, foods, drugs, house furnishings goods, and miscellaneous commodities.

ROTARY CHARTER IS PRESENTED TO COLUMBIANA CLUB

Salem Club Sends Large
Delegation To Meeting Monday Night.

The charter of the Rotary club organized recently at Columbiana was presented at a gathering in that town Monday night of representatives of the Salem, Alliance, Akron and Columbiana clubs. The meeting, held in the Ledger building, was attended by 33 members of the Salem club, who led the singing under the direction of R. S. McCulloch and J. William Filson.

A dinner was served at 7 p. m. and H. A. Tittle, superintendent of schools and president of the new Columbiana club, presided over an interesting program. Dr. Parke R. Kolbe, president of Akron university, outlined the objects of Rotary and spoke of its wonderful growth and influence and then, in behalf of District Governor Theodore E. Smith of Akron, presented the Columbiana charter. This charter bore the number 1494, indicating that there are that many Rotary clubs in existence.

J. S. Alan, former president of the Salem club, who assisted the Columbiana men in organizing, spoke of the cardinal principles of Rotary and emphasized many points which bring leaders in business life into this organization. ## STUDENTS SPEAK ON DEBATE HERE

Florence Hoffmaster, senior, spoke on "Why the Seniors Should Come to the Debate," at an assembly at the High school Tuesday morning, held in the interest of the debate to-night between Salem and Wellsville High schools.

Miss Hoffmaster stated that it was the same as any other school event, except that it was a test of mental strength instead of physical strength and that both teams should be backed.

Neil Grisez stated that the juniors should come as they set an example for the underclassmen.

Thurlo Thomas explained why the sophomores should come, pointing out that they have two members on the team and then, that because there are many who do not know what a debate is and should come and find out.

Don Smith expressed the opinion that the freshmen should come because there should be cooperation throughout the school.

After the debate Wellsville will be entertained by the girls' and boys' association. Dancing and games will be diversions.

Mystery Surrounds Death Of Farmer

Dayton, April 17.—An element of mystery surrounds the death of John W. Baker, 41, farmer, married and father of four children, whose mangled remains were found on Big Four tracks near Mansburg early today.

Nearly as an unloaded revolver. Under a stone there was a note, part of which was unintelligible. One sentence said: "I am innocent."

The names of two parties were also scrawled on the paper.

Authorities are investigating in the belief that he threw himself in front of a train, the identity of which has not yet been established.

INFIRMARY HEAD PLANS TO FIGHT REMOVAL ORDER

Supt. Harris Prepares To Contest Action Of Commissioners.

WILL TAKE APPEAL TO CIVIL SERVICE

County Home Head Demands Charges Against Him Be Investigated.

Lytle B. Harris, ousted as superintendent of the county infirmary by the county commissioners, plans to fight to the finish, according to news from Lisbon.

After several days of indecision, Harris yesterday adopted this course following a conference in the office of W. H. Spence of Lisbon, one of his attorneys.

Harris, who is under civil service, will demand, it is reported, that the state civil service commission lift the charges brought against him and give him a clean bill.

The threatened action by the infirmary head is coupled with reports of steps to recall County Commissioner John F. Kerr of Sallineville, and Conrad Berg of Leontonia, who voted for the ousting of Harris May 12.

Harris it is reported will appeal at once to the civil service body, through his counsel, comprising Attorneys L. P. Metzger of Salem, and George T. Farrell and W. H. Spence of Lisbon. He held conference yesterday with many friends who advised him strongly to resist to the last ditch the attempt of the commissioners to drop him and at length declared that, instead of submitting tamely, he will insist that the charges against him be thoroughly investigated.

Decision Is Surprise
The decision of the commissioners to demand Harris' resignation came as a distant surprise to residents of the county. At the time the commissioners held their first hearing on the charges, as contained in report filed with them by a special committee named to investigate the county farm home, the general impression was that while the report pointed to many things still to be remedied they in no way reflected upon the integrity or ability of the superintendent.

Later, the county commissioners met and, voting two to one, demanding that Harris resign. The dissenting member was Patrick McNiel of East Liverpool.

No charges were brought against Mrs. Harris, who acts as matron of the home. This is another feature to figure in the appeal by Harris, it is reported.

The probe of the home was made at the request of Commissioner Conrad Berg. County Farm Agent C. E. Rowland headed the committee.

Attorney Farrell, speaking for Harris, said that Harris at present has no statement to make other than an announcement that he will fight the commissioners' attempt to oust him. Mr. Harris is confident, Mr. Farrell declared, that he will have no difficulty in refuting the charges of mismanagement and inefficiency.

ROBBERY EPIDEMIC AROUSES CITIZENS

Band Of Petty Thieves Is Operating In County,
Officials Believe.

Lisbon, April 17.—An epidemic of robbing which has struck Lisbon, Wellsville, New Waterford and other places this month was followed by a visitation in East Palestine Sunday night several homes having been entered there.

County officers are of the opinion that a band of petty thieves are operating in this county by means of auto transportation and all villages are warned to be on the look out for gang.

They specialize on visiting homes on Sunday night during the church hour.

For the past week a volunteer police force has been actively patrolling this village in the hope of nabbing the gang that has successfully accomplished six robberies here within the past month.

A large number of citizens have been deputized and beats given them which are patrolled carefully each night. Several suspicious persons have been ordered to make themselves scarce by the volunteers and three places have been searched by the officers thus far.

Futile Competitions

COMPETITION in the quest for less records seems to be growing keener. Especially in 1923 being displayed in competitions for the endurance record in dancing. This form of the outbreak may not be more insane than some of the others, but in its present stage it would be hard to conceive of a less useful competition.

In Houston, Texas, Saturday evening seven dancers were still on the floor after 45 hours of continuous effort and one girl danced for 65 hours. Four couples were trying for the record in Cleveland, where a mark of 42 hours and 16 minutes was reached by a young woman the other day. In Baltimore eight couples and six individuals danced 53 hours continuously. One man became temporarily unbalanced and was removed to a hospital. Nor is this ridiculous rivalry restricted to the United States. In Europe, in England and in Scotland dancing competitions are being held.

Moreover, a few days ago five determined British mothers raced from London to Brighton, each wheeling a baby before her in a perambulator. This brought the Marathon Perambulator race into being, and it threatens to become popular in some parts of the United States.

This passion for freak records is not confined to the women. Various cities are boasting of the gastronomic feats of some of their sporting citizens, and contests in eating are reported from all parts of the country.

This passion for strange records seems to have been greatly stimulated when the Olympic committee established the so-called Marathon race. The race of course never was a bona fide sporting event. When it was tried at the first revival of the Olympic games all sorts of weird endurance contests followed. The end is not in sight.

Perhaps some day means may be found to divert some of the energy that is being burned up in the quest of freak records into something productive and the practitioners of these futile activities may put as much effort into work as they do into play. Then the world may hear of a Marathon stocking darning contest in which an ambitious contestant has broken all records in repairing hose.

ODD WAY TO GET RELIGION

Bishop Must Have Had "Pull" That Was Altogether Out of the Ordinary Run.

The minister was in the midst of a revival service that looked very promising from almost every angle. The finance committee had brought in Miss Nightingale to direct the chorus; the young hopefuls of the neighborhood had listened attentively to the minister, and graciously accepted his invitation to enter the fold.

One day while he was preparing his sermon, his wife and Miss Nightingale came into his study. The conversation soon drifted to church affairs and finally settled down to a discussion of a certain bishop, of whom the minister is not very fond. Here the conversation lapsed, and the minister's thoughts went back to his sermon. The two women soon dropped the bishop and took up some of the local characters.

In speaking of one of them, Miss Nightingale said: "Has he got any religion?"

"Oh, yes," said the minister's wife. "He got it two years ago."

The minister's ear caught the last sentence, and thinking that it referred to the honors that had been bestowed on the bishop, snapped out: "Yes, but he got it through a pull!"—Indianapolis News.

Are You A Judge Of Furniture Character?

It is impossible to judge the real character of either people or furniture on first acquaintance.

You will find both men and furniture with polished appearances; but they are dishonest and insincere underneath, and make disappointing friends or companions.

The furniture we offer you is created with the single thought of giving you honest and dependable service, well made in the unseen parts—the kind of furniture you enjoy living with—the sort that becomes really part of the home and seems to grow better and more valuable as the years go by.

But the accomplishment of which we are particularly proud is that through economical merchandising methods, we have made it possible to own such furniture at prices no higher than you are asked to pay for the ordinary kind.

POTENTIAL MARKET FOR AUTOMOBILES ABOUT 20 MILLIONS

During March Production Reaches New Mark Of 346 Thousand.

Cleveland, April 17.—With no increase whatever in population the potential market for automobiles in the United States is 20,000,000. Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust company, said today.

This estimate comprises the number of families that might aspire to own automobiles, if continued prosperity makes it possible.

There are now in use in the United States 13,000,000 cars, according to the same authority, who continued.

"During March the production of passenger cars and trucks reached the unprecedented total of 346,000. This was more than all the automobiles registered in the United States in any one year before 1910. It was greater than the annual production for any one year before 1910 until 1912.

"The new record means that the automobile factories now have a productive capacity in excess of four million cars per year, and that the actual output in 1923 will probably be more than 3,000,000 machines. The automobile is a good deal like the domestic bathtub or the telephone. In broad, general terms, the natural unit for the automobile is one per family.

"The much discussed saturation point for automobiles will be reached when the market for new cars is exports and meeting the additional needs that will take care of the expansion of our increasing population.

"At present the average life of an automobile is approximately seven years and thus, if there are to be constantly 14,000,000 machines in use, the replacements alone would call for two million new motors each year. In addition the growth of population requires about 250,000 new cars annually and our growing export trade holds large possibilities.

Competition For Labor
Not alone does the manufacture and sale of automobiles give constantly increasing evidence of the new era of prosperity, according to the same authority. Prices of securities of industrial companies reflect increasing profits, and we are now in the latter stages of an unusually vigorous bull market for stock.

Competition for labor is becoming general, as is evidenced by the steady stream of reports from all sections of wage increases. In Cleveland alone industrial enterprises are employing nearly 50 per cent more workers than they did at the low point of the depression reached in June, 1921. Greatest increases are found in steel and iron plants, which have working forces 80 per cent larger than they were two years ago and among manufacturers of automobiles who have forces 48 per cent larger.

Two factors are soon as threatening the present era of industrial prosperity.
1.—A labor shortage.
2.—A shortage of transportation.
The combination of these two factors, it is predicted, may be ultimately effective in bringing the cycle of "good times" to a close.

TAKING IT TOO SERIOUSLY

Lordlord Could Not Help but Think Citizens of Petunia Were Overdoing Their "Coue."

"Well, no," admitted the landlord of the Petunia tavern. "The town isn't as lively just now as it might be. You see, at present the Coue craze is raging here, and it seems like our folks can't get up much interest in anything else. No use to attempt to buy, sell or beg, or ask a direction or expect a favor, for the party you speak to is pretty sure to be muttering, 'Every day, in every way, I am growing better and better,' and wailing his eyes at vacancy as he does so.

"Tuther evening the I. X. L. store was robbed. Constable Slackpatter saw the villains leaving with the goods, but he was just starting to say, 'Every day, in every way—' and so forth, and by the time he had repeated the formula 20 times the robbers' car was clear out of hearing. A feller started to propose to a girl lately, but she had begun to state 20 times that she was better and better. This gave him opportunity to think it over and he got up without committing himself, and left. Any minute I am looking for a building to ketch fire, and the fire company be in the midst of declaring that they are better than ever before and the structure be holocausted before they get to it. There are so many citizens growing better and better that I don't believe the town will amount to anything till they quit it."—Kansas City Star.

Fierce Competition.
"Your competitor across the way is selling a great many Wonder cars." "I'll put a crimp in his business," said the dealer in Wizard cars. "I've got my wrecker out now dragging a disabled Wonder car around town. That ought to shake public confidence a little."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Service like that is not accidental. It comes from hidden values which are fully revealed only in hard service. Attention to detail extends to parts you never see. ### AMBITIONS

By RUTH LONG
(Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The alluring promise of fall caught at the heart of a young woman swinging lazily in a hammock under the trees. A book of French studies lay open on the ground.

That morning she had received an offer of the position of French teacher in the local high school. But the first burst of enthusiasm over that had passed. Now she was asking herself whether it were wise to settle down in her home town.

The cheery greeting of a young man interrupted her thoughts. He vaulted over the fence opposite, covered the space between them in three steps and sprawled himself at her feet.

"Hello, old bookworm," he smiled. "I hear you've landed a position. Congratulations."

Mabel Turner nodded. "Wait, Horace. I was just debating whether it weren't ambitionless to take the first offer—and that here at home."

"Why get city ambitions, Mabel? This may lead to something else," the young man suggested. "I've landed a job, too. Old Uncle Harvey is to initiate me into his woolen business. Pretty soft."

"I hope you'll settle down, then," she scolded. "You never took life seriously—"

"Which reminds me of my errand, Mabel," Horace interrupted, sitting up, his arms about his knees. "I've fallen in love."

"And you just out of college? When, pray, did you fall?"

"Almost overnight. You know Almee Dupont, the little French girl who was here last summer? She's back, visiting her aunt. She's bowled me over. Surprised?"

"Father. And where do I come in?"

"Your French. The language and I quarrel. Almee chatters in it most of the time, and I haven't told her my predicament. Can't you teach me the essential—conversation? I know the grammar. Come!"

"Are you sure she isn't after the money your father left you?" Mabel asked candidly.

Horace frowned. She knew she hurt him, but it was for his good. She patted his shoulder then and picked up the French book.

"The key to love," she laughed. "I'll do my best as a locksmith."

The lessons began next day—the most disquieting lessons mabel ever gave to man. When Horace stumbled, Mabel's eyes softened. She watched his face when he spoke, missing his pronunciation.

Sometimes he would return her glance with the old boy-look crouching in his eyes, then turn abruptly away with a jest.

One evening he sent word that Almee wanted him. The lesson must wait.

When Mabel asked for Almee the next day in her best conversational French, Horace replied in the curtest possible English. He accused Mabel of being peevish, and she told him he was out of sorts. He was, and showed it. Mabel missed his teasing, too—the surest proof of their good fellowship. Almee absorbed him. Mabel was a rebellious means to the end.

When the lesson was to begin that evening, Horace was surprised when Mabel threw the book on the table.

"Are you disgusted with my stupidity?" he asked.

"I am disgusted with everything," Mabel confessed. "We are wasting our time, Horace. Why not give up the lessons?"

"This is a new side of you, Mabel. I never knew this side in college. Never really knew you. It's like getting acquainted with a new girl."

"Woman, you mean, Horace," Mabel corrected, frozen a little by his formal use of her name. "You knew the girl at school."

"I'm a bit afraid of the woman. She's so elusive. It's almost as if a man could never offer you anything worth while enough to hold you away from the heights. Such a contrast!"

"To whom?" She half knew what he would say by the flood of warmth that gladdened her.

Horace evaded. "I might have been engaged to Almee this minute if it hadn't been for you. She tried hard enough to lend me on. I have learned to count time by heart throbs" rather than to murmur "par jef"; to carry away the memory of your eyes, the tone of your voice rather than "je vis en espoir," as I thought I did for Almee. Mabel, dear, is there the ghost of a show for a poor clumsy chap like me? Or are your ambitions beyond marriage?"

Mabel wondered if Horace could hear her heart singing. "Maybe, after all, women are made to fill a sphere that men can't," she admitted. "Woman holds her place even though she doesn't speak in congress or discover a new mineral. Children are crying all over the world for love, tenderness and a home. That is woman's place—to open her arms and take them in. My ambition is high enough, but when I look around, I'd rather be queen in my own home, reigning over my family, than be president of all the confederations in the world."

"In that case," Horace conceded, "I'll loan you to the school for a little while. But," taking her hands, "don't teach them what you have taught me."

"We don't teach love," Mabel smiled. "It just reaches out and takes possession."

And that is what Horace did, too.

DECISION WILL AID GRAIN BUSINESS

Grain Futures Trading Act Will Check Gambling, Capper Thinks.

Chicago, April 17.—The decision of the U. S. supreme court which upheld legality of the grain futures trading act will have a wholesome effect on the grain business, Sen. Arthur Capper, said today in a statement issued from his home in Topeka.

"Every wheat grower in the United States has been regularly victimized in recent years by bear raids and squeeze and efficient short selling on a huge scale at the end of big manipulations who virtually control the Chicago board of trade and use it unconsciously to accomplish their end," Sen. Capper asserted.

"Gamblers who never held a bushel of wheat, buy or sell paper promises in such a manner as to force wheat prices up or down. I believe this will not be impossible," he said.

WHISKY WORTH TEN MILLIONS AT STAKE

Cincinnati, April 17.—Whisky worth ten million dollars, at current boozing prices, is at stake in a federal case argued yesterday before District Judge A. M. J. Cochran sitting at Covington, Ky.

The suit, filed in Frankfort in 1920 by Thomas W. Hinde, of Chicago and Solomon Rosebloom, of Pittsburg, involves 19,500 barrels of Old Jordan. The defendant was John B. Thompson of Harrodsburg, Ky.

Hinde and Rosebloom were partners of Thompson and sought to prevent sale of the liquor. J. S. Bache and company of New York, entered the case with a claim of ownership of 14,400 cases of the whisky, saying they had paid $252,000 for it after purchase from Clifford T. McAllister, another New York broker.

REVIVAL OF OHIO ANGLERS LICENSE BILL IS EXPECTED

Rep. Cope Expresses Views At Meeting Of County Sportsmen.

Members of Fish and Game association of Columbiana county met in the court room at Lisbon Monday evening to listen to an address by Rep. H. D. Cope.

Mr. Cope took up the recent attempt to pass the angler's license bill which was defeated by the governor's veto after having been passed by both branches of the Ohio legislature. He described the fight for the bill in the house and its final passage and the surprise occasioned by Gov. Donahey's veto.

Cope said he believed the bill would be brought up again after the recess and that it stood a good chance to be passed over the governor's veto. He was given an appreciative hearing by representatives of the association from East Liverpool, Salem, Leontonia and Lisbon.

Previous to the address, President John L. King of Salem, asked the secretary to read letters received by him from Representatives T. L. Calvert and C. F. Heth, who had opposed the bill and were now ready to vote for it.

The secretary also read Gov. Donahey's message accompanying the veto in which the governor stated his reasons. The governor said he was opposed to taxing the people for the innocent diversion of fishing because more than half of the people of the state were women who did not violate any of the fishing laws and that he was also opposed to taxing a man with a family who desired to spend a pleasant outing along some creek, stream or lake and do a little fishing. The governor's veto message was discussed by those present who heartily disagreed with him for the stand taken.

In consideration of Mr. Cope's efforts on behalf of the angler's bill he was made an honorary member of the Columbiana County Fish and Game association and was given the membership number 1,000.

OBITUARY

Almus Beardsley
Almus Beardsley, 94, a lifelong resident of Canfield township and widely known farmer, died in his home northwest of Canfield at 11.10 p. m. Sunday of the infirmities of age.
He was born in Canfield Jan. 2, 1829, son of Philo and Lois S. Gun Beardsley, and lived in that vicinity all his life. In 1854 he was married to Mary P. Dean, who died in 1905.
A successful and prosperous farmer he followed that occupation until retiring several years ago because of advanced age.
He had been a member of the Canfield Christian church for many years and in his younger days was an active worker in the congregation, maintaining his interest in its progress until his death.
Two sons, Ensign N. Beardsley, Greenford; and H. J. Beardsley, Canfield and one brother, Philo Beardsley, Canfield, survive.
The funeral will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the residence. Interment in Dean cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. White
Rev. M. M. Coffin, pastor of the First Friends church, conducted the funeral of Mrs. Isadore White Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Eckstein, near the Depot rd. Interment was in Grandview Burial park.
Among those in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Schwartz and daughter, Janet, Mrs. Helen Buzzy and Mrs. Harry Talbot, Cleveland; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Montgomery, Mrs. James Crawford and Mrs. Edith Ward, Lisbon.

Myrtle Virginia Miller
Miss Myrtle Virginia Miller, 23, died after a long illness at 4 a. m. Tuesday at the home of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, 41 Wilson st. Miss Miller was at Springfield Lake sanitarium for 14 months and was brought home Feb. 9.
Miss Miller was born at Hanover, but spent her life here. Surviving is her brother, at whose home she died. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith were cousins.
The funeral will be at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the A. M. E. church, East High st. Interment at Hope cemetery.

Fortunes Made in Few Minutes.
If a song "catches on" it proves a gold mine to somebody, although not always to the author and composer.
"Alexander's Ragtime Band," and "Her Golden Hair Is Hanging Down Her Back" were money-makers, for the profits in each case fell little short of $20,000.

In the same class must be added such songs as "The Boney Man," "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," and "After the Ball." It is said, too, that "My Pretty Jane," which Slims Reeves sang thousands of times, netted $2,000 a line.
Yet some of these best sellers have been the result of but a few minutes' actual work. "Sing Me to Sleep" was composed in ten minutes. Tosti's "Dear Heart" was the work of two days, while Balfe wrote "Killarney" in a few minutes.—London T. B. B.

ASSAULT CASE IS BEGUN IN COURT

Lisbon, April 17.—The trial of the cases against D. H. Spidel, teacher at Dugannon, charged with assault and battery by Charles Milbourne, a pupil, and also with contributing to the delinquency of children, was begun this morning before Judge Riddle. The assault case was tried first.

Charles Milbourne, 13, was the first witness called. He testified that on March 21 that D. H. Spidel, his teacher, fogged him with a board about two inches wide and 18 inches long because he became dirty while wrestling with a playmate on the school ground. Five of his schoolmates also testified to the whipping and after they had been dismissed Mr. Spidel took the stand in his own defense.

After stating that he had taught for 40 years in this county and that for six terms, previously, he had taught the Dugannon school, he stated that he had punished Charles because he had not kept himself clean, as he had ordered him to do so. He was still testifying when the court adjourned for the noon recess and was replaced when court convened after dinner.

The members of the school board of Dugannon, interested parents and friends of the children occupy seats in the court room.

TRAIN HITS AUTO, SEBRING MAN HURT

Sebring, April 17—George Shaw, aged 40, a tailor of Sebring, was probably fatally hurt, Sunday evening at Niles, when the coupe in which he was riding, with Arthur Simms, owner of the car, and Thurston Shinn, both of Sebring was struck by a train.

The men left Sebring at 3:30 p. m. for a drive. At the Grant st. crossing in Niles, they were hit by a fast freight train. Shinn and Simms who were riding on the sides, leaped from the car, but whether Shaw saw the train or whether he was not able to jump because of a former accident which caused Shaw to walk lame, is not known.

Shinn tried to flag the train but was too late. The car stalled on the track and was completely demolished. Shaw was taken to the city hospital at Warren.

Relatives of Shaw, Mrs. E. M. Shaw, his mother and sisters, Elsie, Beulah and Helen, who were notified of the accident left Monday morning for Niles.

Mr. Shaw's wife, Mae Shaw, of Youngstown and son Harold, aged 19, were notified late Sunday night.

SCHOOL CHILDREN THROG CAPITAL

THOUSANDS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY ARE ON VISITS TO WASHINGTON.

GUIDES BUSIER THAN EVER

Bridal Couples, Also, Are Numerous, as Always—Daughters of Revolution Come in April and Mystic Shriners in June.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—It would be hard to make any Washingtonian believe today that there is any such thing as a race suicide in these good United States. The capital is full of school children, packed with them, in fact. A dozen states are represented here by these future voters of both sexes.

High schools, grammar schools and, in two or three cases, primary schools are represented by groups of pupils, each group with one or more teachers in charge. Every spring Washington witnesses just such an influx of boys and girls; but, judging from the crowding and bustling appearance of the streets, there are many more children here today than have come in any season of the past.

The hotels are filled and Washington is getting a foretaste of what the conditions will be here in June, when the city is expected to entertain 400,000 visitors who are to attend the convention of the Mystic Shriners.

The Washington guides in this spring season are busy, not only with their guiding but with the duties of question answering. It is said the children ask more questions in a minute than a grown person in an hour, and the rumor has it that some of the guides are put to it to give correct answers. Seemingly the American school children of today have a pretty good idea of American history. Possibly, however, they have primed themselves for this particular Washington visit.

Good Time to Visit the Capital.

The capital is worthy of a visit at this time. The oriental magnolias are in full bloom, the forsythias are out, the tulips are just breaking into yellows, reds and whites, the trees partly leaved, and spring, with all its allurements, is present.

The school children will continue to come all through April, and with them will come the objects of even greater interest than school children—the brides and grooms. Washington is a busy city when congress is in session, but it is a busier city when the excursionists are in session. The railroads seemingly make it as easy as they can for Americans to see the capital of their country at its best. If the rates cannot be accounted as really low, then there is evidence here that the parents of the American school children must be fairly prosperous. (It costs something to live in hotels in Washington, and it costs something to do sightseeing in an approved way. None of the thousands upon thousands of children now here seem to present any evidence of the existence of hard times.

Shortly now about four thousand Daughters of the American Revolution will come to Washington as delegates from their numerically strong order to the annual convention of the organization. The Daughters hold their meetings during the week in which falls April 19, which is the anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord. The Washington guides who take our parties to show them places of historic interest are mighty careful what answer they make to questions put to them by Daughters of the American Revolution. Somebody has said that the Daughters know more about American history than American history knows about itself.

Can't Always Believe the Guide.

It is pretty well known in Washington that the city guides size up, so to speak, those whom they are guiding, and occasionally draw the long bow. Sometimes, it is said, when they don't know the answer to a question they will make up an answer and trust to luck to having it accepted as the truth. They try nothing of this kind with the Daughters of the American Revolution. Sometimes it seems that one can find an excuse for the vagaries of some of the Washington guides in answering questions. Once upon a time a group of school teachers came to Washington. They were taken through the capital by one of the guides, who showed them the senators in session and then showed them the representatives in session. After they had seen both legislative bodies at their work one of the school teachers turned to the guide and said: "Now, will you please show us congress?"

The crowds were so dense at Mount Vernon a few days ago that it was necessary to close the upper part of the house because of the impossibility of proper oversight and for fear that some damage might be done by the surging masses of the tourists. The lower part of the mansion was kept open, but attendants formed the sightseers into line and they were allowed only to pass through the house.

Home Humor.

Wife—Why, John, you're repeating the Cone formula. Do you believe in it?

Hub—It is certainly true when applied to my hair.—Boston Transcript.

WOMAN HIDES BOY FROM KIDNAPERS AT CALLA MONDAY

Man Forces Way Into Home But Clever Ruse Balks His Efforts.

BOY PROTECTED IN NEIGHBOR'S HOME

Foster Mother Says Same Man Took Boy's Sister Five Years Ago.

A daring attempt to kidnap nine-year-old Frank Normile from the schoolhouse at Calla, three miles southwest of Canfield, was frustrated Monday by the quick wittedness of his guardian, Mrs. Gertrude Normile.

Mrs. Normile was alone in her home with her sister when a man drove up in front of her farmhouse and started up the driveway.

Mrs. Normile told Deputy Sheriff Edward Donahay and Deputy Jacob Youngstown, that she recognized the man instantly as the person who had kidnapped the boy's sister, Ruth Normile, now 11, from her home in Haysboro, near Pittsburgh, five years ago.

"At the time he kidnapped the little girl he threatened to get Frank also and my heart sank when I recognized him coming up the driveway," Mrs. Normile said.

At this time the boy was in the schoolhouse at Calla, about a quarter of a mile down the road.

Sent Man To Doctor's

"I realized that I had to think of something else to tell him so that he could get Frank away from the schoolhouse or he would be kidnapped so when the man asked me where Frank was I told him 'up to the doctor's getting his arm dressed' and pointed in the opposite direction."

Then, as the man, who was in a large dark touring car, started in the direction of where Dr. Leimbach lives, she ran across the road to the home of Mrs. Vera Cook and quickly related her experience.

Mrs. Cook directed Mrs. Normile to remain in her home and then she ran to the schoolhouse and go the boy out of school.

She had almost reached home again when she saw the auto coming down the road from Dr. Leimbach's home. Directing Frank to run as rapidly as possible she cut across lots to her home.

Hide Upstairs

The man apparently failed to see them as he again went to Mrs. Normile's farm and then came to the Cook home. In the meantime Mrs. Cook had told Mrs. Normile to hide upstairs with the boy.

The man came to the back door of the Cook home and when Mrs. Cook opened it forced his way inside and demanded to know where Mrs. Normile had gone.

Mrs. Cook ordered him to leave the house and at the same time a neighbor woman made a movement as if to get a repeating shotgun from the corner where it stood in full sight and the stranger turned and left.

In the meantime Mrs. Normile had telephoned to the sheriff's office and Chief Deputy Donahay and Deputy Jacobs started for the scene.

The car containing the man who made the kidnapping attempt was passed about two miles from the Normile farm. With a speeder car the deputies would have arrived in time to arrest him.

Both Mrs. Normile and Mrs. Cook were so excited that they failed to take down the license number of the machine but Dr. Leimbach was able to furnish an excellent description of the car and attempts are now being made to trace it in Youngstown.

Inquired At School

The deputies established that after the stranger was frustrated from forcing his way into the Cook home he went to the Calla schoolhouse and inquired for the boy.

Mrs. Normile informed the deputies that there were no men in the house as her own husband was dead and her daughter's husband, Mr. Pearce, was working out of town.

Upon learning this Deputy Sheriff Donahay decided to bring the boy back to Youngstown for several days until Mrs. Normile, who is moving to another city this week completes her preparations. He will be kept carefully guarded until that time.

Mrs. Normile said that she obtained custody of Frank Normile and his sister, Ruth, in Beaver county, Pa. when both were babies.

"They were the children of my niece, who had parted with her husband, and when he failed to provide for them the courts awarded them to me."

OUR READERS

Answer Broadcast Listeners

Editor of The News:

In answer to the complaints and the article in Saturday night's News, we wish to express a few opinions on the matter.

In the first place it was stated "Amateurs who are just learning to broadcast." This is not so, the amateurs were in the game before radio-broadcasting was started or even invented, here in Salem as well as in other localities.

Second, it was stated that they "are off the wave length permitted by the government." This also is false. 260 meters is prescribed as the amateur wave length and that wave is used by the stations which are transmitting and causing complaints.

A local transmitting station will interfere with the stations causing interference are licensed under the same government regulations as are the broadcast stations. As long as we comply with the laws and regulations we cannot be deprived of the "privilege of transmitting unless we interfere maliciously, which is not our intention."

This trouble is not only found in Salem, but is a national problem, as can be noticed by the article which also appeared in Saturday's paper.

The amateurs and broadcast stations both want the air and both have a right to it, but both cannot have all of it at the same time; therefore a compromise must be made.

The Radio Relay League recommends that amateurs stay off the air between the hours of 7 and 10. The amateurs in Salem are willing to abide by this rule. There are also in favor of forming a Radio club but feel that there would not be enough representation to give them a fair deal.

The interference is not done purposely. We enjoy the concerts occasionally ourselves, but why speak of being "off the wave length permitted by the government," when the truth is not known, and the changing of the wave length will not remedy the matter.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter-box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLEMAN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of nearly fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Englemann.

You should give it a fair trial now.

THEATRES

Down Town Scandals

One of the best shows playing at the Grand theater this season is the Down Town Scandals, staged by Fred Hurley, whose last three shows have been meeting with such success at the Main street playhouse.

The show opened here Monday night and presents an up to date, well costumed, musical act. Good song numbers are plentiful and a well drilled chorus handles the numbers in good fashion. A male cactus trio is an added feature of the show here. The bills will be changed daily.

Irene Castle

Dancing, particularly ballroom dancing, will take on a new interest when "Dances and Fashions of 1923" is presented by Irene Castle and her associate artists at the Park theater Youngstown, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee.

On the occasion of this engagement the dances that are destined to be the vogue in society this season will be shown in their perfection by Mrs. Castle with the assistance of William Reardon who has been her dancing partner for several years. Mrs. Castle's pre-eminence in her field is undisputed and her general popularity is rather remarkable in that she has not alone attained distinction on the stage, but has been starred in a number of pictures.

This country has over 2,000 fatal mine accidents a year and the United Kingdom one-half that number.

COURT NEWS

Held Under Indictment

William Neil of Wellsville, charged with larceny, was arrested Sunday and brought to Lisbon Monday morning by Sheriff Lewis and Deputy George Wright. He had been indicted by the grand jury and had evaded the officers Saturday when they went after him.

He will be kept in the county jail until arraigned Wednesday when bond will be fixed by the court.

Petit Jury Reports

Members of the petit jury reported to Sheriff Lewis Monday and were duly listed and made ready for duty. The jurors will remain on the list and report each morning unless excused by Judge Moore or during the trial of a case when a jury has been impaneled.

Sues On Promissory Notes

Harry Whitaker has filed an action in common pleas court against Forest and Eliza Smith of Wayne township, in which he seeks to recover on four promissory notes executed in December, 1918, for the aggregate sum of $808. Two credits are made on the notes by the defendants.

The plaintiff asks that a mortgage on a 40-acre farm in Wayne township, given to secure the payments of these notes, be foreclosed, and that the court give him such other relief as it may deem proper.

Dogs carried to this country by Columbus lost their property to barking after being freed in the street of America.

Black walnut trees from 50 to 60 years old are growing along one highway in Michigan.

ALCOHOL AND MALT PRODUCTS DECLINE UNDER PROHIBITION

Washington, April 17.—The effect of the prohibition amendment on certain lines of industry was disclosed today by the census bureau in announcing the value of malt and vinegars liquors and alcohol products manufactured in 1921 as compared with statistics for 1919 and 1914.

Products of the three classifications aggregated $155,556,000 in value in 1921. In the pre-prohibition year of 1914 they were valued at $666,546,000, and in 1919, the year in which national prohibition just became effective they were valued at $529,213,000.

Manufacturers of malt liquor turned out non-intoxicating products valued at $122,050,000 in 1921. Their output in 1914 totalled $412,149,000 and in 1919 approximated $373,905,000. There was a 72 per cent decrease in the seven years after 1914 while from 1919 to 1921 the decrease was 68 per cent. A total of 73,404 persons were engaged in the industry in 1914, while last year the number was 22,416.

Manufacture of vinous liquors in 1921, totalled $4,757,000 in value, $17,454,000 in 1919 and $16,618,000 in 1914. The 1921 total includes establishments making wines for sacramental and medicinal purposes while in 1919 and 1914 included also wine for beverage purposes.

Manufacturing establishments engaged primarily in the distillation of common and ethyl alcohol and other liquors, whether sold for industrial or medicinal uses or in a denatured form, reported products valued at $28,789,000 in 1921. Their output in 1914 was $206,779,000 while in 1919 it totalled $21,854,000.
